Mumbai

Arrival in Mumbai

Free time for recovering the long haul flight

On your arrival you will be transferred to our Hotel Mumbai, formerly Bombay, is big. It's full of dreamers and hard-labourers, starlets and gangsters, stray dogs and exotic birds, artists and servants, fisher folk and crorepatris (millionaires), and lots and lots of people. It has India's most prolific film industry, some of Asia's biggest slums (as well as the world's most expensive home) and the largest tropical forest in an urban zone. Mumbai is India's financial powerhouse, fashion epicentre and a pulse point of religious tension. <https://www.lonelyplanet.com/india/mumbai-bombay>
In the afternoon we do a orientation walk around the Hotel in Colaba area.
Rest of the day is free

Taj Mahal Tower, Mumbai Check in time after 1200 Noon

Day 2
11 Feb 2019
Monday

Mumbai

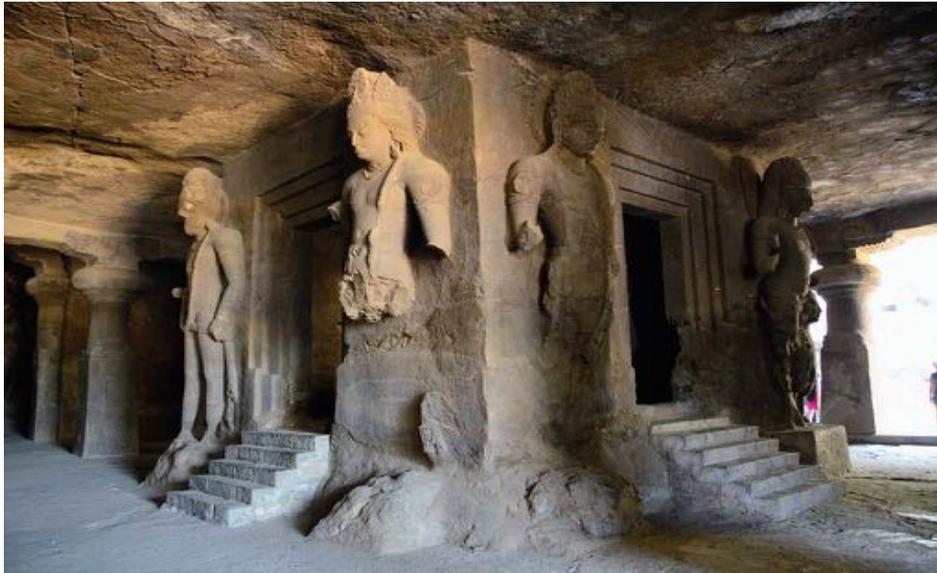

After our breakfast in the Hotel, we set out to explore Mumbai's life. Our local guide, will take us to Mani Bhavan. Mani Bhavan, a modest two-storied building on the Laburnum Road in the comparatively quiet locality called Gamdevi, served for about seventeen eventful years (1917-1934) as the nerve centre in Bombay for Gandhiji's activities. It belonged to Shri Revashankar Jagjeevan Jhaveri who was an ardent devotee of Gandhiji and his affectionate host during that period. Today Mani Bhavan is a hallowed memorial to Gandhiji, to his stay here and to the activities he initiated from here <http://www.gandhi-manibhavan.org/>

Later, we move to Churchgate station to interact with the world renowned Dabbawalas at work. <http://mumbaidabbawala.in/>

We break for included Lunch in a local restaurant

In the afternoon, we explore the Asia's largest slum, Dharavi.

Later free time around Colaba market and Dinner on your own

Mumbai
Baroda
(Vadodara)

Local train ride to Baroda(Vadodara)

The Princely State of Baroda was ruled since its formation in the year 1721 by the Gaekwad dynasty till the year 1949, when the princely state was acceded to the Union of India. The city of Baroda, presently known as Vadodara, served as the capital of the state. Baroda was amongst the wealthiest and largest princely states in India which existed alongside British dominated India and lucratively earned from the developing cotton industry. During the period when the nation attained independence, the Maharaja Gaekwad of Baroda was among the only five Indian princes. The city is mixture of many eras and its reputation as "Cultural Capital" dates largely from the late 19th c, when it was the capital of the princely state of Baroda.

In the late afternoon, we stroll and explore in the old town of Baroda

In the evening we have Dinner together

Baroda
(Vadodara)
Champaner

In the morning we drive about 25 miles to explore Champaner the old ruin palace and Mosque

Champaner was founded in the 8th century by the Maharaja Vanraj Chavda of the Chavda Kingdom. The city and surrounding state of Pavagadh became an important buffer area between Mandu and Gujarat, as well as a key station on trade routes leading from Gujarat to both North and South India.

We will have included lunch at the local restaurant

In the afternoon we get back to Vadodara and explore the palace complex.

Evening we have free time for you to explore around the Hotel and dinner on your own.

Friday

Vadodara
Bhav Nagar

This morning after a relaxed breakfast, we set up for a 5 Hours drive to Bhav Nagar. North of Ganga Jalia Tank, Bhavnagar's old city is well worth a wander, especially in the early evening – it's busy with small shops and cluttered with dilapidated elaborate wooden buildings leaning over the colourful crowded bazaars. Don't miss the vegetable market!

We will walk through the old town and explore some of the cultural practices of people. In the evening we sit together for an early Dinner as we have an early morning departure to Palitana, next day.

Day 7
16 Feb 2019
Saturday

Palitana

We leave early morning today to reach Palitana (35 miles) 2 Hours bus ride. The stunningly beautiful Temples of Palitana are an important pilgrimage for the Jains. The temples, or derasars as they are called by Jains, can be accessed after a tiring hike on the Shatrunjay Hills and are a must visit for anyone who loves architecture and culture. These temples are actually a cluster of about 863 temples and they belong to both sects of Jainism - Digambar and Shwetambar.

After the hike to this holy hills, we drive back to our Hotel in Bhav Nagar. EFCEE Sarovar Portico Hotel B, D

Day 8

Sunday

Bhavnagar
Sasan Gir

Today we have a long bus ride (160 Miles) towards Sasan Gir.

Gir is one of India's oldest sanctuaries, and is the only place in India to see Asiatic lion (Panthera leo persica). The Government of Gujarat has declared an area of 1412.1 sq km as Protected Area (PA) which comprises 258.7 sq km as National Park and 1153.4 sq km as Sanctuary. Besides this 470.5 sq km of forest area forms a buffer Zone as reserve, protected and unclassified forest. Thus, a total area of 1882.6 sq km makes up the Gir forest.

Tuesday

Sasan Gir
Junagadh
Gondal

In the morning after our breakfast, we drive to the coastal towns of Veraval and Somnath.

Veraval had Gujarat's largest fishing harbor and we drive through this fishing harbor where thousands of fishing boats are berthed. Seafaring dhows and wooden fishing boats are still built by the fishermen without the use of any modern technology. Traditional skills are passed down from father to son

Continue driving to the most of important pilgrimage center for the Hindus, Somnath Temple. The modern temple complex was built in 1951, after the previous old structures were damaged by various invading monarchs.

We return to our Hotel in the afternoon after our lunch in the local restaurant.

In the afternoon, we take a safari ride in the Gir National Park to see the natural habitat of Asiatic Lions and the tribals.

Later return to our hotel for Dinner
B, L, D The Fern Gir Forest Resort

In the morning, we have also an option of going for another safari in the wildlife park and return to our Hotel for Breakfast and check out.

We drive to the Junagadh town to explore the old town. Junagadh is a city in the western Indian state of Gujarat. Mahabat Maqbara is the huge 19th-century mausoleum of a local ruler, which showcases intricate Indo-Islamic architectural details. Stepped in history, culture, spirituality and religion, Junagadh is the Soul of Saurashtra. We stop at the old town for on our own lunch.

We further continue to drive towards Gondal and check in.

Day 11
20 Feb 2019
Wednesday

Gondal

The 11-gun salute princely state of Gondal spanned an area of about 1000 sq miles comprising four towns and more than 175 villages. The state was ruled by a dynasty of the Krishna-vanshi Jadeja Rajput clan from Thakur Shri Kumboji in the 1600s.

Gondal like its neighbors has some visually exciting palaces and living spaces; some like the Riverside Palace commissioned in 1875 by Bhagwatsinghji is now a Heritage Hotel. The palace grounds form a private forest reserve with frolicking deers and a variety of birds adding to the tranquil beauty of the place.

A building worth visiting is the old Darbargadh a seventeenth century structure which reputedly cost Rupees Nine Lakhs thus earning the sobriquet 'Navlakha Palace'. The palace is built on series of arches delicately carved and inscribed in stone with a magnificent spiral staircase leading all the way to the top. The interior of the Darbargadh is open to visitors and for a fee one can experience the opulent living style of the Maharajas of old. Mandvi Chowk. The central marketplace of Gondal is a typical riot of color, the bustle of street cries and hawkers, vendors and beggars and wafting aromas of food stuffs amidst flowing bales of trade cloths in a variety of exotic prints. To experience Gondal is to take a walk down its winding streets inhaling the soul of the city and its people! Today, lunch is on your own.

Afternoon we explore the Palatial complex and the Personal car collections of the Maharaja.

In the evening we again have dinner in the Palace.

Bhuj

Day 13
22 Feb 2019
Friday

BHUJ

After a palatial breakfast, we get ready for a long Bus ride to the Kutch region of Gujarat.

Bhuj is the capital of the Kutch. Kutch literally means something which intermittently becomes wet and dry; a large part of this district is known as Rann of Kutch which is shallow wetland which submerges in water during the rainy season and becomes dry during other seasons. The same word is also used in Sanskrit origin for a tortoise. The Rann is famous for its marshy salt flats which become snow white after the shallow water dries up each season before the monsoon rains.

Bhuj is an ideal springboard for visits to the surrounding villages and to places of great natural beauty in the Great Rann, and textile tourism is attracting visitors from around the world. We arrive at the Hotel late afternoon after breaking for lunch in the local restaurant, Enroute.

B, L, D Hotel Regenta Park

Handicrafts are a way of life in Kutch and what makes it so unique, colourful and therefore well visited from guests from all over the world interested in exploring crafts. Around Bhuj there are several villages that specialize in different kind of handicrafts. These villages are home to numerous pastoral nomadic, semi-nomadic tribes. These villages, thanks to some grass root organizations have started to focus on embroidery / handicraft as principle source of livelihood and have begun to organise communities around this activity.

Today, we spend our day in couple of tribal villages and learn about the handicrafts they make and interact with them. We will have lunch in one of the villages

We return to the town after lunch and have some free time in the market of Bhuj and dinner on your own.

Evening optional visit to the nearby Swami Narayan temple to participate in the rituals.

Day 14
23 Feb 2019
Saturday

Bhuj
Bajana
Little Rann of Kutch

In the morning we start driving towards Bajana, the Little Rann of Kutch. Considering that it sprawls out over 5,000sqkm, the Little Rann of Kutch seems inaccurately named. Its name makes sense only in comparison with the salt desert next door: The Greater Rann of Kutch, which stretches out across 7,500sqkm. The word Rann means “salty desert” and while driving through the Little Rann of Kutch, a salty desert is all you see. The first drive into the terrain feels a little surreal. The ground is cracked, the air is dry, mirages abound, and the parched earth unfolds endlessly in all directions. The Little Rann contains one of the country’s largest wildlife reserves, the Wild Ass Sanctuary, where the topography varies from large marshlands to brown-grey patches of soil with a few small thorny shrubs.

We check in at the Hotel and later do a safari ride in the Little Rann of Kutch.

B, D Royal Safari camp

We start after breakfast to drive to the famous towns of Modhera and Patan

Modhera Sun Temple The sun temple at Modhera is a grand sandstone monument built by the Solanki dynasty in the year 1027 A.D. and is dedicated to Surya, the sun god. The complex is filled with elaborate carvings and the resident priest enjoys explaining the legends they depict. A step tank in front of the temple has 108 shrines that lead down to the water. Though the garbhagriha, or main shrine, was demolished in the 13th century by Allauddin Khilji, most other sculptures are intact

Rani ki Vav (Queen’s step well), in Patan is richly sculpted monument is considered a masterpiece dedicated to the king by his widowed wife Udayamati. The Well was later flooded by the nearby Saraswati River and silted over until the late 1980s.

If you are travelling here for the first time, you might get confused as you won’t see a tall museum or the remains of a ruin because it is built inside an opening in the ground, which makes it special.

After a brief stop for a lunch break, we drive towards Ahmedabad and check in at our Hotel and in the evening we get ready for a dinner in the local restaurant.

Ahmedabad

Ahmedabad (also called Amdavad, Ahmadabad or Ahemdavad), Gujarat's major city, grows on you. Yes, during peak hours with traffic, noise, and air so thick you can chew it, the place can be a little overwhelming, but it's well worth taking the time to get to know this remarkable city. It wins you over with its wealth of architecture – from centuries-old mosques and mausoleums to cutting-edge contemporary design. Then there's the fascinating maze of an old quarter, fine restaurants, a bustling street-food scene and the tranquillity of the Sabarmati Ashram (Gandhi's former headquarters).

The old city, on the east side of the Sabarmati River, used to be surrounded by a 10km-long wall, of which little now remains except 15 formidable gates standing as forlorn islands amid swirling, cacophonous traffic. The new city on the west side of the river has wider streets, several major universities, and many middle-class neighbourhoods.

After our relaxed breakfast, we set out for exploring the Sabarmati Ashram, the first one to be established by Mahatma Gandhi. We allow ourselves to participate in any of the activities of the day happening in the Ashram. There will be also a guided tour of the Ashram.

<https://www.gandhiashramsabarmati.org/en/>

In the evening, we go to a heritage home for a home hosted dinner in the middle of the world heritage old town of Ahmedabad.

House of MG, B, D

This morning we explore the old city, walking. We do a guided heritage walk and learn about the life of people. We also explore the mosque.

We also break at the local restaurant for snacks in the old city.

In the afternoon break for on our own lunch and we have plenty of options around our hotel. In the evening we go to the river side to explore life there and later we will have our farewell dinner together today.
